

Year R Homework Letter

17.3.17

This week the children have been learning about the significance of Palm Sunday. The children have cut out palm leaves and we will be recreating the journey that Jesus took when he entered Jerusalem

We are continuing to add to our spring display and the children have made daffodils to place around the border. This has made our classroom look very colourful and 'Spring like'.

I look forward to meeting you during Parents Evening next week. If you have not made an appointment, then contact the school office.

A reminder that it will be Comic Relief day next Friday. The whole school, including the Reception class, will be participating in this exciting event. A separate letter was sent out last week.

The Lenten boxes can be decorated and returned when they are hopefully full up! However, they will need to be returned before the end of term. I have advised the children to ask permission before they place any of their own money in their boxes.

Diary Dates

In Maths, we have been learning about one more and one less. Some children have been learning this practically and others have been learning this mentally. The latter have also been introduced to using a number line in order to calculate the answers.

In Literacy, we have been looking at the difference between story (fiction) books and information books (non-fiction).

In Phonics, we have learnt the digraph er as in letter. This digraph is used at the end of words. We are also consolidating all our learning in the Phase 3 stage. Please continue to hear you child read daily and write comments in their reading record.
